Hupson, N. Y., June 12, 1854. Inimation of the City—Convocation of the General Synod of the Reformed Dutch Church—The Synodical Sermon—Communications and Resolutions - Anti-Slavery Statement - Exertions

Against Popery, &c.. &c. This pleasant and quiet little city has been the scene of more than usual, yet healthful, animation during the last few days.

The General Synod of the Reformed Dutch Church met here last Wednesday, at 10 A. M., and have since been occupied in the consideration of the usual annual business of that body; and many measures o great importance and general interest to the church have been discussed, and all will still claim their attention. This is the largest meeting of this Synod which has taken place in several years, as it opened with sixty-three members, and the number reached 102 members before the close of the week. A pleasant degree of harmony has hitherto marked all the proceedings of this body.

The Synod having convened, was opened with prayer by Rev. Joseph Berg, D. D., of Philadelphia. The Synod then having balloted for officers, the Rev. Dr. Hutton, of New York, was elected President, and Rev. Messrs. J. P. Strong and J. M. Ferris were elected clerks pro tem.

The afternoon was appropriated to devotional exercises. The Rev. Dr. Proudfit, of Rutgers College, delivered a stirring address to the ministry present, insisting upon their maintaining old truths, in oppo-sition to the new conceits of the day, and that they should not fear to contend for the faith, and thus show themselves worthy sons of the noble fathers of this branch of the Reformed Church. Rev. Dr. DeWitt, of New York, followed, urging to a sense of responsibility in laboring for the prosperity of our church, which, in this country, had been blessed with the labors of many men of learning and distinguished piety. Such were Dominies Freeman, of Long Island, and Frelinghuysen, of Raritan. Nineteen printed sermons of the latter have recently been translated, which will doubtless be a grateful offering to many of our people.

The First Reformed Dutch Church, (Rev. Mr. Demarest's,) was well filled in the evening, on occasion of the Synodical sermon. This was expected to be delivered by Rev. Dr. Kennedy, of Albany, the Pre. sident of the last Synod. The Rev. Doctor being otherwise engaged, in connection with the great otherwise engaged, in connection with the great railroad excursion, the sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Berg. from 1 Cor. ii. 9, 10. The sermon was able, and interesting to the auditory.

A letter was read on Thursday from the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of South Africa, in which they tendered their Christian esteem and fellowship. This church now consists of fitty-four parishes. On account of the scarcity of ministers they were about establishing a theological seminary, and had received liberal contributions toward the object. They were now endeavoring to secure nary, and had received liberal contributions toward the object. They were now endeavoring to secure two professors from Holland.

The clerk also read a communication from the Synod of the Waldensian Church, in which they thanked them for the collections taken by the church toward the endowment of their professorship. The Waldenses number twenty-three thousand, divided into sixteen parishes. They have fifteen principal schools, and one hundred and forty-five hamlet schools, which were only open four months in the year. The number of scholars is four thousand seven hundred and ninety-two. There are fourteen female schools. Their college has eight professors and eighty-four students. A large number of persons are being educated for teachers and colporteurs. They have reorganized their evangelical labors since 1848, having established six stations in Sardinia, and one in Constantinople, among the numerous Italian refagees gathered in that city. A church has been erected in Turin.

Reports were presented by the Sabbath School Union, the Board of Education, and it 2: of Poreign Missions, and referred to the proper committees.

The report of the Board of Superintendents of the Theological Seminary showed that twenty-five students were in attendance.

The report of the Treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions was read, and exhibited an amount of receipts greatly in advance of any preceding year—being $13,294.

Dr. Krebs, the delegate of the General Assembly, O. S., took his leave of the Synod, with appropriate remarks, which were responded to by the President.

MONDAY MORNING.

The General Synod met this morning at the hour plassembling, (I 1 o'clock.) and was opened with trayer by the President. After calling the roll, the ninutes of the session of Friday were read, and after some discussion upon the minute respecting the Review, were adopted.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures reported against the Synod's entertaining the complaint of the Rev. J. S. Ebaugh against the Classis of New Tork, which was unanimously adopted.

A communication was received from the Superintendents of Common Schools of Hudson, inviting the Synod to visit the schools of the city, and especially the Female Academy. The thanks of the Synod were presented, and a committee appointed to visit the schools.

Rev. Mr. Westfall, of the Classis of Illinois, presented a communication asking the Synod to ratify their acts in receiving a minister and organizing a church when they had not a quorum, on account of inability to procure one, on account of their dispersed condition, which was referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

Several communications were read from the stated clerks of Classis, giving their nominations for the vacancies in the Board of Superintendents, which were adopted.

The Synod adjourned with prayer by Rev. Dr. Wykoff, of Albany.

The Synod doorwened next day at three o'clock, P. M., and was opened with prayer by the President. Rev. Mr. Connelly, agent of the New York State Colonization Society, appeared in Synod and made some interesting statements showing that the sentiments of the people of the South were becoming more and more convinced of the evils of slavery and favorable to the cause of colonization. Liberia exercises jurisdiction over 200,000 natives who regard the colony with respect. This has been an independent republic for seven years, and recognized by England, France, Belgium and Prussia, and the Empire of all denominations, and several of the most efficient of these are from your church. We publish books to itomanism. We have colporteurs, missionaries, no lecturers, of whom we have had minety-two analysis of during the last year. We intend entally agreed prominent elergymen of different bodies, to preach to Protestants on this subject, first in New York and then in other cities. The Dr. glanced at the foreign field in France, Belgium, Sardinia, &c. Ireland has opened wonderfully, and the Christians of England and Scotland have at length awoke to their duty. Lower Canada has a pleasant field, in which our work is progressing rapidly—there being now three thousand converts there. New Granada and other parts of South America, offer most encouraging fields of labor. The whole work has assumed a most encouraging aspect.

aging aspect.

Rev. Dr. Areel presented a resolution commending both these objects to the churches. This was seconded by Rev. Dr. Proudfit, in some appropriate remarks. He thought that we should do something more than give a verbal sympathy, because we are vitally interested in what this society are doing to a verbal sympathy.

more than give a verbal sympathy, because we are vitally interested in what this society are doing to expose the acts of Romanism.

The resolution was adopted.

The order of the day—the report of the Committee on the Liturgy—was then taken up. The report, printed copies of which have been circulated in the Synod, was then read by the clerk, and discussed till five o'clock, when the ministers from the West made some interesting statements as to the churches in their field.

HUDSON, N. Y., June 15, 1854.

Tuesday and Wednesday's Proceedings—Sermon by Rev. Dr. Berg—Interesting Business, &c., &c. The General Synod of the Dutch Reformed Church assembled on Monday evening to hear the sermon on foreign missions, preached by Rev. Dr. Berg. The text was Mark xvi., 15—"Go ye into all the world," &c. The preacher considered—I. What is involved in the terms of the command: to preach the gospel to every creature. II. The means for the accomplishment of this work : 1. The truth as it is in Jesus; 2. The living ministry; 3. The sanctified wealth of the Christian church. III. The obligation where the command imposes to aim at the extension of the gospel.

These points were well illustrated, and the au dience were evidently pleased. By the by, the whole city here is delighted with the preaching they had last Sabbath from the members of the Synod who supplied the pulpits.

SECOND DAY.

TUESDAY June 13 .- After the opening this morn ing, a communication was presented from the Council of the University of New York city, urging the Synod to nominate students to certain scholarships. which were placed in the possession of the Synod.

The Standing Committee on Rutger's College reported in favor of giving churches the same opportunity of securing scholarships which individuals now enjoy.

The stated clerk reported a letter, received from some member of the Synod of the German Reformed Church, purporting to be their act discontinuing the correspondence between the church. The order of the day, the disposition of the report, or the revision of the liturgy, was then taken up and discussed. Some were in favor of sending and discussed. Some were in favor of sending down to the Classis the question:—Shall we have a revision of the liturgy? for their decision.

After considerable debate, it was pretty generally considered due to the committee that they should have an opportunity to revise their work, and it was recommitted unanimously.

A circular having been issued during the last winter by the Secretary of the Board of Missions, at the instance of a benevolent layman, and this having been referred to the Synod, by the Classis of Bergen, a committee presented a report on the document, in which they recommended the establishment of a sustentation fund, and also the publication of a tract on the propriety of a more liberal support of the ministry, for which it is understood the funds are prepared by the same liberal man.

The recommendations were adopted.

The report of the Committee on Correspondence occupied the afternoon. A prominent item of this was the violation of the terms of correspondence between the General Assembly and Synod by the North River Presbytery, in the reception of Rev. Mr. Smuller, who was not dismissed to them, and also of several members of the Second church of Kingston without any certificates. It appears Rev. Mr. Smuller was tried on certain charges by the

A dispensation was granted to Ezekiel and Jared W. Scudder, sons of the Rev. Dr. Scudder, the venerable missionary of this church in India, by which they are allowed to devote a part of their time to medical studies.

The Lord's supper was administered in the afternoon. Rev. Dr. Taylor, or Bergen, N. J., preached the sermon on the occasion, from John XIX. 30. Dr. Krebbs delivered a pertinent address.

The annual sermon on "Domestic Missions" was delivered in the evening, by Rev. John C. Van Lirw, on Luke 24-47. In which he addreed reasons why in carrying out our Saviour's command we should begin at home:

1. The wide scope here afforded for the growth ot the various forms of infidelity.

2. The vast immigration into our land.

3. The gospel is essential to the preservation of our civil and religious liberty.

Friday was occupied with the report of the Board of Dome stic Missions was read by the Secretary, and greatly interested the Synoid in this branch of the operations of the Church. The receipte have amounted to 818,407 21.

The establishment of a sustentation fund occupied that there has been a great deal of positive suffering among this class. Some industrial layrnen typic and the report of the committee of discussion, which ended in the endorsement of the New Brunswick Review as a few amounted to 818,407 21.

The establishment of the New Brunswick Review and the last General Assembly. The report of the endorsement of the work.

The report of the committee appointed by the last Synod to revise the liturgy was presented, which is considered one of the most important measures to be acted on by this Synod.

An important step has been taken by the unanimous adoption of the report of a committee appointed to consider the propriety of establishing a Board of Publication. The committee presented a most adoption of the report of a committee appointed to consider the propriety of establishing a Board of Publication. The committee presented a most adoption of the report of a committee appointed to the committee of t heads and hearts. This church has reason to be proud of her eliership. The discussion continued till 10 o'clock, when the Synod adjourned.

THED DAY.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.—The interests of Rutgers College and its claims upon the Synod, were presented by Rev. Dr. Scort, of Newark, New Jersey. He showed that New York had established a large public school when there were but one hundred men in it, and a Latin school as early as 1658, which, with several others growing out of it, supplied the place of a college down to 1770, when the present college was chartered. All Christian bodies had their schools, and we must have ours, and they should be good ones. The trustees are now trying to raise an endowment of $100,000, by scholarships of $500. The church had reason to be proud of the college because of the great number of distinguished men found among her alumni, and they and the churches should readily raise this amount.

Rev. Mr. Wood, one of the secretaries of the Board of Foreign Missions, presented that subject to the attention of the Synod.

The Board have twenty-nine stations, several of which are among the American Indians. There are 103 churches, with 26,000 members, under the care of those missions, and 23,000 children under instruction. The American Board regard the mission of your church at Amoy as vastly important, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries as standing in the front rank, and the missionaries ast been $15,257 29. One hundred and twenty-seven churches have contributed nothing to the board's funds.

The report brought forward a scheme for a Church Building Fund of $25,000, for which a special effort is to be made in all the churches, on the second Sabbath in January next. One gentleman pledged himself to give the last $1,000, when the $24,000 should be raised.

The report on the State of Religion was read by Rev. Dr. Arbel:—The spirit of benevolence is on the increase, $73,887 84 having been given to all the various causes of benevolence during the year, against $59,955 58 given during the preceding. There are 12t churches who make no report. During the year 3,140 persons have been received into the churches, of which 1,598 are by confession and 1,540 by certificate.

The report on the Widows' Fund showed it amounted to $13,741 73. The number of subscribers is seventy-one, of whom eight are annuitants, and have received $1,375. The receipts have been $2,689 08, of which $1,100 were from clerical subscribers.

Rev. Dr. Proudpit read a long, able, and interesting report on education, advocating the establishment of a parochial school system, so as to meet the terms of Mr. Schlefflin's liberal offer of $7,000 to put the system in practice; and the adoption of a distinct agency for this Boarl, as the means of bringing young men up for the ministry. Among our 27,000 families—36,000 members—with an equal number at least of children, there is ample material for the supply of the ministry.

Considerable discussion arose as to the want of a plan for conducting parochial schools, when it was referred back to the committee to supply the deficiency.

FOURTH DAY.

Thursday Morning.—The Synod met at Sy o'clock, according to the adjournment last evening, and adopted a resolution sending down to the Classis for consideration the propriety of making the particular synods conventional, or of enlarging the delegation, so that their views can be acted upon by the next General Synod.

The report of the Committee on Education was resumed. They presented an enlarged plan of conducting parochial schools, which, after a general and animated discussion, was almost unanimously adopted. The request of the Sabbath School Board was granted, severing the connection between them and the American Sunday School Union. The appropriation to beneficiaries was ordered to be paid for one quarter after they leave the seminary, and that in advance.

The Board of Education were empowered to em-that in advance.

The Board of Education were empowered to employ a Corresponding Secretary and General Agent to devote his time to the interests of the Board, provided his salary be not taken from the educational funds of the Board. A fund was assessed for the defrayment of the expenses of the Western Delegates in attending this Synod. Votes of thanks were presented to the Reformed Dutch Church of Hudson, and the inhabitants of the city and vicinity for their hospitality. Various committees on the incidental business of the Synod reported, after which the Synod adjourned with singing, prayer, and the benediction.

This Synod has been large, industrious, conservative, and progressive. With great unanimity they have adopted many measures of vital importance to the future prosperity of this church, and if their action be energetically followed up by the people, we shall yet hear from them. The Synod were greatly gratified by the attentions they received from the hospitable inhabitants of Hudson, and will doubtless cherish pleasant memories of their nine days residence and labor here.

Advertiser, and, in view of the exorbitant prices now asked for all sorts of vegetables, is exceedingly interesting:—

The fine little brigantine Quadruple, Capt. Swan, sailed to-day for New York, and the brig Tornado, sails to-morrow for the same port, both well laden with potatoes, onions and tomatoes, in prime order, well cured and boxed, which will no doubt grace the New York market and command a price they deserve. It is a matter of satisfaction and credit to Bermuda that our farmers are taking such pains to send their produce in good order to the American and West Indian markets; our shippers cannot be too particular, and in fact for the sake of the country and for the protection of those who pay attention to the barreling and boxing of the staple articles, there should be a regular inspector and brand on all exported produce, for if a cargo or parts of cargoes are landed in a spoiled condition certainly the vegetable dealers will be cautious and indifferent about purchasing; then as we hope to obtain a good price for the produce of our soil in the years that are yet to come, let us be more and more careful in sending our cargoes in good condition, that all fears of the wholesale dealers may be dissipated. The schooner Water Witch arrived in Hamilton harbor, from New York, on Saturday, 27th ult., discharged a full cargo, took in another, and sailed again on Wednesday, with a freight equal to 800 barrels, of Bermuda produce, and presuming she has had the wind pretty much as it has been here, most likely arrived at New York yesterday morning; as a similar despatch at that port may be counted on, the Water Witch in all probability will be here again on Thursday week, thus performing the voyage in a fortnight. This is driving business with a vengeance.

Lindsay & Blackiston, of Philadelphia, have published a translation of De Bessés Turkish Empire, by Mr. Edward Joy Morris, late United States Charge d'Affaires at Naples. After the numerous and more comprehensive works that have lately issued from the press on the same subject, we see but little in this compilation that called for its reproduction here. The biographical notices of Abdul Medjid, Omer Pasha, Churschid Pasha, (General Guyou,) and the Egyptian Viceroy, are loose and meagre performances, and the main body of the work is characterized by the same slovenliness and imperfection of execution.

Messrs. Carstensen & Gildemeister, the architects of the Crystal Palace, have gone to the expense of publishing an illustrated description of the building, more with a view, we apprehend, of placing upon record a refutation of the rumors that attribut d part of the failure of that collosal humbug to their lack of energy, than of erecting a literary monument to their own fame. If such be their object they might have spared themselves the trouble, for the public have aleady saddled the blame of the Crystel Palace short-comings on the right shoulders. With the building itself and with the manner in which the Messrs. Carstensen & Gildemeister discharged the difficult and responsible duties that devolved upon them, there is no fault to find. Had the other details of the enterprise been as carefully and diligently attended to, the result would not have been such a lamentable failure. Apart from its per-sonal object, the book will be found invaluable as a been such a lamentable failure. Apart from its personal object, the book will be found invaluable as a work of reference by professional men. It has been got out regardless of expense, and its typographical and artistical merits must ensure for it a place in every library. It is published by Riker, Thorne & Co.

The Deserted Wife, by Mrs. Southworth, is a tale of considerable power and originality, and the moral to which it points is one that cannot be too forcibly impressed on the minds of parents. The object of the writer is to show that "the fundamental causes of unhappiness in a married life are a defective moral and physical education, and a premature contraction of the matrimonial engagement. In these truisms is to be traced the origin of many of the evils that afflict society; and this attempt to connect the cause and the effect, through the medium of a work of fiction, is likely to do more in the way of prevention and remedy than all the treatises and homilies that can be written on the subject.

The Autobiography of an English Soldier in the U.S. Army, belongs to a class of publications, the statements in which must always be received with caution. It professes to give the history of the career of a Paisley hand-loom weaver, who, disappointed in the expectations that had induced him to visit this country, was compelled, as a last resource, to accept service in our army. It looks to us, however, more like one of those clever compilations which ready writers in the pay of publishers turn out to order, with the aid of itineraries and works of travel. There is, however, sufficient of verismilitude in it to interest and amuse the reader.

Nanette and her Lovers, a tale of Normindy, by Talhot Gwynne, displays an intimate acquaintance with the habits and manners of the district in which the scene is laid, but it is wanting in that constructive and imaginative power which is essential to the production of a good story. The publishers are Riker, Thorne & Co., of Fulton street.

Sadlier & Co. deserve credit for the efforts which they are making to introduce the works of the most esteemed Irish authors to the notice of the American public. They have this week republished Gerald Griffin's Tales of the Five Senses, which, although not the most popular, may be ranked as one of the best productions of this writer.

A Year after Marriage, by T. S. Arthur, is one of those common place delineations of every day life, which are by courtesy classed under the generic title of "the domestic novel." The publisher is Peterson, of Philadelphia.

The Frontins smen, a narrative of 1783, is a well written and interesting tale, after the style of Cooper. It approaches as near its model as any of the imitations of this writer that we have seen with the exception of Mr. Erskine Murray's Prairie Brd. It is published by Stringer & Townsend.

Sherrill's Homocopathic Guide to Health, published by Radde, of Broadway, is intended as a sort of ready reference to aid the practitioner in prescribing. Although the description and pathology of diseases are for that reason omitted, the remarks on epidemic cholera and small pox will be found well worthy of attention at the precent moment.

We have received from Horace Waters a parcel of music, containing among other pieces the "Angel Whispers," a pretty song, with music by Gochel; "A world of love at home," by Converse; a fine polka by Comettant, and a set of very original and clever waltzes by John Fletcher, late of New Jersey.

NORPOLE, VA., June 12, 1854. More about the Fugitive Furns—His own Account of how he left his Master—His Opinions of a Free City—How he employed himself in Boston—State of other Escaped 2 Darkies.

In consequence of the early departure of the Northern mail, I was compelled to defer giving more minutely a description of the arrival of the fugitive

A large crowd gathered on the wharf, and anxiety was depicted on the countenance of every one to get a peep at the distinguished darkey. He arrived on hore in company with the officers deputed to see him safe back to old Virginia, and escorted to the shore in company with the officers deputed to see him safe back to old Virginia, and escorted to the jail by three police officers and quite a large crowd, there to remain until his departure for Richmond. He is a fine-looking fellow, possessing a figure very commanding, and his carriage is erect and stately. After being deposited in jail, he was visited by a number of persons, to whom he gave in detail a history of his adventures. His situation in Boston was anything but agreeable, if his representations are correct, and glad was he of the opportunity to get back home. He stated that he was involuntarily carried off by the captain of the vessel he was working aboard, having laid himself down on a pile of shooks and fell asleep, and when he awoke he was some distance down the river in tow of a steamer. He asked the captain what he meant by carrying him off, and the captain replied he intended carrying him to a free State, where he would be as free as anybody. He remonstrated, but in vain; the captain was obstinate, and would listen to no appeal.

The vessel arrived at Boston, and without clothes and penniless, he was cast ashore, to shift for himself. For a long time he could get nothing to do and nothing to eat of any consequence. Being so long without employment, and no prospects of getting any, he began to despair, and wished himself home in the enjoyment of happiness with his kind master. During the three months he lived in Boston he only got three weeks' employment, and he stated if any negro knew when he was well off, he had better remain at home, and not run away to a free State, to be badly treated, and no one to care for him. He also stated that he saw several fugitives, during his sojourn in the city of Boston, who would willingly and cheerfully come back home if their masters would receive them and not punish them. Altogether, he gives an awful account of the situation of darkies in Boston, which speaks bad for the generous and philanthropic citizens of that city. Burns left last evening in the steam

ALABAMA STATE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

This body, which convened at Montg mery the 31st inst., and adjourned after a session of two days, appears to have been well attended, and characterized by sufficient zeal in the pursuit of its objects. The leading feature in its action is that by which it was determined to organize for the next State elections, on a basis the principles of which were agreed upon and announced. The report and resolutions embedying the platform of the convention were introduced by Rev. A. A. Lipscomb, and contemplate "a change in the license law, to this extent—that if a man desires to retail ardent spirits, instead of obtaining a recommendation from six persons, he shall obtain the written recommendation of a majority of the voters and heads of families in the city, town, village, ward, or election precinct in which he may desire to retail." It was stated in the convention that more than 100,000 free citizens of the State petitioned the last legislature to afford the relief which they desire; but their reasonable request was indignantly refused. They say that they are now determined to elect men to the legislature who will need no petitions, and a Governor who will be certain not to veto the law that they desire shall be passed.

KILLED WHILE IN A STATE OF INTOXICATION—PROSECUTION UNDER THE NEW LIQUOR LAW.

On Sunday morning, says the Columbus, Ohio, Democrat of the 13th instant, as the cars on the Mad River railroad were leaving West Liberty, Logan county, the engineer discovered something upon the track. The train was stopped, but not until the object was run over. Upon an examination, it was found to te the body of a man cut to pieces. Ho was recognized as being a shoemaker, having worked in Urbana some months. It was ascertained that he had obtained balf a gallon of liquor of J. Ballille, before leaving Urbana, and it was thought that he was under the influence of this liquor when he was killed. On Monday, a complaint was made before Wm. C. Kellar, a Justice of the Peace in Urbana, against J. Baillie, for selling the liquor. All the witnesses not being present, the Justice held him to bail in the sum of $200, to appear on Tuesday morning. The citizens of Urbana have no sympathy for Baillie, and they will see him prosecuted to the full extent of the law, and also all who disobey the law hereafter.

full extent of the law, and also all who ulsobey she law hereafter.

A mass temperance convention will be held in the city of New Haven, Conn., on Thursday, June 22, for the purpose of devising the best means for the thorough enforcement of the prohibitory liquor law, and organizing as a body for immediate action, as soon as the law shall go into operation.

The first liquor case in Wooster, Ohio, under the new law of that State, was decided on the 5th inst. The trial was by jury, and lasted three days. The accused, Isaac Baughman, was found guilty, sentenced to ten days imprisonment in the county jail, and fined $20 and cost.

The grand jury of Hamilton county, Ohio, have found bills of indictment against A. B. Coleman, of the Burnet House; Selves & Roth, of the St. Charles Exchange; F. Diserns, of the William Tell Exchange; and Schæffer and Flach, of the Debolt Exchange, four of the most fashionable drinking establishments in Cincinnati.

The liquor dealers held a meeting at the Spring Garden Commissioners' Hall, Philadelphia, on the 13th instant, for the purpose of taking measures to test the constitutionality of the Sunday liquor law. test the constitutionality of the Sunday liquor law. Wheeling, Va., lately chose a temperance municipality, which refused to license. The Legislature of Virginia overruled this action; whereupon the Board granted licenses at the following rates: For the Spring House $4,000; M'Clure, $2,000; for each seller by wholesale and retail, $5,500; retail only, $1,500. We haven't heard that any of these licenses have been taken.

The Present Mode of Weighling Grain. The Present Mode of Weighing Grain.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

There has been much said of late at the Cora Exchange about the present mode of delivering cargoes of grain of various kinds. Wheat, corn, rye, oats, barley and malt are sold and bought by weight, each having a standard weight fixed by statute, viz.: A bushel of wheat is sixty lbs., a bushel of corn fifty six lbe., a bushel of cats thirty-two lbs., &c. The custom for a long time adopted by persons buying, selling and dealing in grain of various kinds, has been (and is at present,) to buy and sell by weight. And the mode at present adopted for ascertaining the weight of a cargo of grain, is to measure one hundred bushels, weigh one bushel out of every hundred measured, and average the hundred bushels so measured by the weight of the one bushel weighed.
